AUTO REPAIR & SERVICE TIPS

Listen to Roger on Auto Shop Talk KMJ580 AM Saturdays from 7am - 9am

DO YOUR RESEARCH

Ask your friends and family for technicians they trust, and check with BBB. You can read past customer reviews, and view their rating. Be sure to check with the Bureau of Automotive Repair for license information at bar.ca.gov, and look for any certificates.

An Automotive Service Excellence certificate is not a requirement, but it indicates that some or all of the technicians have met basic standards of knowledge and competence in specific technical areas.

MAINTAIN YOUR CAR

Read your vehicle's manual for the automakers suggested routine maintenance schedule to keep your car running in tip top shape. This will tell you things like what oil to use, when to replace fluids, spark plugs, etc. Pay extra attention to any unusual sounds or smells coming from your car, and any lights that are staying on. If any of these are happening to your car, call your service professional and they can help you decide whether to drive your car, or tow it into the shop for service.

LEAVE IT UP TO THE PROFESSIONALS

Describe what problems you are experiencing to the technician, but ultimately let them diagnose what is wrong with your car. Don't be afraid to ask your technician to take a drive with you. Intermittent problems often require extra time to diagnose, so be prepared to leave it overnight or longer.

UNDERSTAND YOUR WARRANTY - FACTORY OR AFTERMARKET

Note anything you need to do to keep your warranty valid. If you are getting work done while the car is still under warranty, check to see if you must take it to a specific location, and if there are any guidelines you must follow. Before authorizing a repair, make sure you understand the amount you may be responsible to pay if the warranty doesn't cover the entire repair. This is especially important with aftermarket warranties and service contracts.

If you have any questions, refer to your written warranty, or call the warranty company and ask.

APPROVE THE ESTIMATE

Accurate estimates for routine maintenance service intervals such as oil changes, transmission service, etc. are usually right on.

Repair estimates often start with a base diagnostic charge. Your professional technician will test components and systems: what's working, marginally working, not working and why, before giving you an estimate to repair the problem(s). Revised estimates are common. A final repair estimate depends on an experienced professional's ability to access a daunting number of current scan tools, software updates, service subscriptions, specialty tools and advanced technical training that helps them interpret all of the data.

Shops are required to document your approval of an estimate before beginning repairs.

PAY ATTENTION WHEN PICKING UP YOUR CAR

When you pick up your car, get a complete and detailed written summary describing everything the mechanic did, and ask them to go over it with you. Be sure to save all your paperwork in case there is an issue down the road.

AIR CONDITIONING

CA License# 271615 | 559.400.8929 | www.mrcool4ac.com

DO YOUR RESEARCH

Ask your friends and family who they've done business with in the past, and check with BBB at bbb.org. You can read past customer reviews, and verify the company's accreditation. Also, be sure to gather at least three different comparing bids from three different companies.

VERIFY THEY ARE LICENSED

In California, any contractor who does work totaling $500 or more must be licensed through the Contractors State License Board. HVAC contractors must hold an active C-20 Warm-Air Heating, Ventilating and Air Conditioning license through CSLB.

Contractors also can't do multiple jobs under $500 to avoid being licensed. Visit CSLB.org to verify their license is up-to-date before you hire them. Also, be sure the company has personal and property damage liability insurance, as well as workers' compensation insurance should something happen on your property while they are on the job.

OBTAIN A WRITTEN CONTRACT

According to CSLB, building permits generate routine inspections to help assure that the system was installed properly, is functioning efficiently, meets Home Energy Rating System testing and verification requirements, and complies with the State Building Energy Efficiency Standards.

OBTAIN BUILDING PERMITS

Once you've determined which HVAC contractor to hire, get all the details in writing. Make sure the contract includes their full contact information, exact costs, start and completion dates, details of work being done, products being used, verbal promises that were made, warranty information and a payment schedule.

When coordinating the payment schedule, never pay more than 10 percent down or $1,000, whichever is less.

KNOW WHAT THE MAINTENANCE ENTAILS

If you hire a company to come out for a maintenance visit, make sure they provide, in writing, an explanation of the services they will be providing, a cost breakdown, warranty and service guarantees, and any extra charges that may be accumulated.

ASK ABOUT A SERVICE PLAN

Some companies offer customers a chance to enroll in a service or maintenance plan. These plans can cover anything from free service calls, discounts and free parts, all in exchange for a monthly fee. While this may be an extra cost, taking precautions with your unit could end up saving you more in the long run. Just make sure you get your coverage in writing.

COOLING-OFF RULE

The FTC's Cooling-Off Rule gives you a 3-day right to cancel any sale made at your home, your workplace, or dormitory.

By law, the seller must inform you of your right to cancel at the time of the sale, and provide you with two copies of a cancellation form, and a copy of your contract/receipt. The contract should include the date, the name and address of the seller, and your right to cancel. You have until midnight of the third business day after the sale to invoke your cancellation clause.

PLUMBING TIPS

Brought to you by

661-397-2093 | www.bakersfieldplumbingco.com

PLUMBER VS. PLUMBER CONTRACTOR

Before you do anything, you need to first know the difference between a plumber and a plumbing contractor, so you know who to hire.

A plumber is the first person a homeowner turns to when they need help with a busted pipe, toilet overflow, etc. Plumbers also may be trained in installing faucets, toilets, sinks, hot water dispensers, garbage disposals, drain cleaning, etc.

Just make sure the total price of the project does not exceed $500, or else they would need to be licensed through the Contractors State License Board.

A plumbing contractor completes more complex tasks, as well as the normal day-to-day tasks a plumber does.

A plumbing contractor can construct the homes waste disposal system, install gas control valves, back flow prevention, water softening equipment, septic systems, maintenance and repair of any part of your homes water supply, etc.

DO YOUR RESEARCH

Ask your friends and family who they've done business with in the past, and check with BBB at bbb.org. You can verify the company's rating and read past customer reviews.

Consider hiring a plumber who is a part of an organization like the International Association of Plumbing and Mechanical Officials, or the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors Association. While plumbers aren't required to join organizations, it may help you to narrow down which one to hire.

Also, reach out to three different companies and get three different comparative bids.

VERIFY THEY ARE LICENSED

In California, a C-36 Plumbing Contractor license through CSLB is required for projects that are $500 or more with labor and material costs. They cannot do multiple jobs under $500 to avoid being licensed.

Also, be sure the company has personal and property damage liability insurance, as well as workers' compensation insurance should something happen on your property while they are on the job.

OBTAIN A WRITTEN CONTRACT

Once you've decided on what plumber to hire, get all the details in writing.

Make sure your contract includes their full contact information, total cost, start and completion date, details of work, verbal promises that were made, warranty information, if materials are included in the cost, or charged separately, the quality of the products, and if they charge a fee for cleanup.

When coordinating the payment schedule, never pay more than 10 percent down or $1,000, whichever is less.

Also, get retention payments in writing which includes the amount, the date, and the scope of work completed.

SOLAR TIPS

Brought to you by

DONALD P. DICK
AIR CONDITIONING

CA License# 271615 | 559.400.8929 | www.mrcool4ac.com

DISCUSS WITH YOUR ENERGY COMPANY

Talk with your energy company beforehand to be sure solar panels will be beneficial for your home.

Talk to them about net metering, which will allow you to store energy in the electric grid when your panels are overproducing, and pull from the grid when your system is under-producing.

Also, ask about local, state and federal laws regarding standards and codes of solar panels.

FIND A REPUTABLE INSTALLER

Ask for recommendations from friends and family members, check with your BBB at bbb.org, and meet with at least three different solar contractors and get competing bids.

Inquire how long the company has been in business, and read past customer reviews. Ask if they have any special certificates and past photos of previous installations. Make sure they are licensed through the Contractors State License Board, since they will be doing work over $500, up-to-date on their insurance and worker's compensation, and that they take care of obtaining any permits with your city.

Also, if they subcontract out, make sure the subcontractors are licensed as well.

INQUIRE ABOUT TAX CREDITS

The federal solar tax credit—also known as the investment tax credit—allows you to deduct a certain percentage of the cost of installing a solar energy system for your federal taxes, with no cap on its value.

Taxpayers can claim a credit of 30 percent for any owned system that is placed in service by December 31, 2019. After 2019, the tax credit will drop to 26 percent. If the federal tax credit exceeds tax liability, the excess amount may be carried forward to the succeeding taxable year.

OWN OR LEASE

When inquiring about solar panels, you have two main options—own or lease. You can buy your panels outright via cash or a loan, or you can lease the system or sign a power purchase agreement, and a third party would own your panels.

Buying your system outright is best when you want to maximize the financial benefits of installing a solar panel system, rather than solely benefiting from the system's environmental benefits, want to increase the market value of your home, and you want to utilize the tax benefits through the federal investment tax credit.

A solar lease or a power purchase agreement is your best option when you are more interested in using electricity generated from renewable resources, rather than maximizing the financial benefits, you want to avoid the responsibility of maintenance or repairs, you are ineligible for federal or state investment tax credits, or you do not want to wait until the following year to receive the financial benefits of tax credits.

SETTLE THE DETAILS

The written contract should include the companies contact information, the warranty details, contract length and cancellation fee (if applicable), payment schedule and any verbal promises. Also, ask what should happen if you don't save as much on your electric bill as promised and get that in writing as well. Do not sign the contract unless you are 100 percent satisfied with what is written. When coordinating the payment schedule, never pay more than 10 percent down, or $1,000, whichever is less.
